

Ride the Metro!

OH L.A.!! VISIT HISTORIC DOWNTOWN LOS ANGELES

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 4

Tour Guide: Pat Allen, Professor of Sociology

Time: 10:00 am – 4:00 pm

Location: Meet at the main entrance of Union Station
(Take the Metro Red Line from North Hollywood)

Join in a culturally enriched lecture and discussion of Los Angeles...

Wear comfortable walking shoes

First, we will tour the historic Union Station Terminal, learning the history and function of this beautiful building. On to the Civic center, passing the Federal Prison and a view of the Twin Towers.

We'll pass through...

...the Japanese center and see one of the most beautiful pocket gardens in Los Angeles; we'll also learn about the history of the Japanese in LA and look at the monument to the 442nd

Then on to...

...the historic Biltmore Hotel and 7th Street, where we will see more historic buildings including the Fine Arts Building and art deco shopping areas.

Let's not leave out the...

...library with its beautiful steps which lead us to MOCA and the California Plaza with the greatest fountains ever!

Are you tired yet? NO!! We need to go to...

...the Grand Central Market to explore every ethnic group in LA.

As we enter another area of town, we'll...

...also eat lunch at a historic and culturally diverse establishment. We'll see the Bradbury Building and then back to your car or the Metro.

Explore the city

A major multicultural experience in Los Angeles...

Earn six hours of professional development credit

Understand your city, its culture, and how city government meets the needs of its people.

Does Los Angeles follow any of the traditional theories of sociologists?

What are the anomalies within Los Angeles – how does it differ from other major U.S. and European cities?

RSVP to profdev@lavc.edu or ext. 2712 and provide your cell phone number